

GO DEEPER

Self-Examination Questions

How would you describe your prayers? After studying this lesson, is there any way you would want to change your prayers?

Is there a style or type of prayer that you are more comfortable with?

How effective would you say your prayers are? Do you see ways you could alter your prayers and see more answers?

Prayer Points

Use these prayer points to write and pray your own powerful prayer:

- Thank God for His Word that teaches about prayer.
- Thank God for listening to your prayers.
- Praise God that He answers prayers.
- Ask God to help you pray with faith and authority.
- Ask God to continue to expose misconceptions about prayer that have hindered your prayers.
- Commit to use prayer to communicate with God and not to impress any person.
- Thank God that your prayers are not begging God to do something but enforcing what Jesus has already won for you.
- Praise God that prayer releases what you believe.

Action Steps

- In your Healing University journal, write down ten situations where someone might need some type of healing. Look over your list and pick two situations. Think about how you would minister to a person dealing with those situations. Write down what you would say to them to help build their faith, and then write what you would pray. Begin to see yourself ministering and praying. Try closing your eyes and picturing a person, then speak and pray out loud. Was your prayer filled with faith and authority? Was your prayer long or short? Did you preach? Continue each day to take two more of your listed situations and write down how you would minister and pray. What do you notice about your prayers throughout the week? Are they getting more filled with faith and authority? Are they getting longer or shorter? Do you feel more comfortable talking to God now?

- Settle in your heart that when you pray, you don't have to beg God to heal because He already wants you well. Take your authority and believe for what you already have through Jesus. Examine your heart and, when you are ready, make the following declaration and don't waver from it:

I believe that when I pray I don't have to beg God to heal because He already wants me well. I will take my authority and believe for what I already have through Jesus.
